

Cesi Pagano & Associates is a full-service real estate office specializing in Orange County, California.

We handle various types of real estate transactions, focusing primarily on luxury properties within Orange County. Our industry experience gives our team a unique perspective on this market, and our unwavering dedication to our clients has helped us successfully advise a range of people from real estate investors to first-time homebuyers. Finding out what our client's goals are, we then use every tool at our disposal to make their goals a reality. If you are looking for a team that is in the real estate business for the clients, then you've come to the right place.

The Keller Williams Difference

Cesi Pagano & Associates is a proudly independently own and operated business in association with Keller Williams, one of the fastest growing real estate companies in the world. Cesi originally selected Keller Williams Realty because of their shared values and culture towards customer satisfaction. Keller Williams is one of the industry's finest international real estate companies with a respected reputation, customer-focused values, team support, superior business systems, leading edge technology, the very best continuing education and training, consulting, and masterminding.

Not only are we a part of the Keller Williams team but we are a part of their global reach program. By working with us, you can gain access to a worldwide network of potential buyers. Advertising in over 500,000 international real estate agents in over 30 different countries, translating your property information into 19 different languages; giving us a reach that most agents never come close to. Any agent can put your home in the MLS; however, with foreign buyers making such a difference, our agents have the knowledge, network, and tools to sell properties globally.
